This charming studio has space for either one person or two - there are two single beds that can also be converted into a double bed if needed. The other half of the main room contains a dining table with space for four. Leading out from that, there is a fairly spacious terrace, which looks out onto the central area where the apartment is situated. The bathroom has a toilet, a shower and bath combination, as well as laundry facilities, which is very convenient. The kitchen is in an adjoining room, and is very sleek and well equipped.
